

Finding Titanic: The Secret Mission

PR Fact Sheet

- Exhibition in development - Premiering Fall 2025
- 6 comprehensive exhibition sections covering the complete mission journey
- Multiple immersive “Top Secret Zone” environments
- 3 interconnected maritime narratives (Titanic, USS Thresher, USS Scorpion)
- Extensive declassified Cold War mission documentation
- Authentic Titanic-era replica lifejacket
- Underwater exploration theater with original footage
- Modern ocean exploration technology showcase

An underwater photograph of the Titanic wreck, showing the ship's hull and rigging in a dark, blue-green environment. The ship is partially obscured by a dark, curved shape at the bottom of the frame.

Finding Titanic: The Secret Mission

PR Fact Sheet

- Dr. Ballard's iconic blue jumpsuit and cap worn during the discovery
- Advanced underwater technology including AMUVS foam pressure housing, launch tube, and prototype
- Benthos camera film canisters used to capture the first Titanic wreckage images
- Detailed models of Alvin submersible with interior cutaway and Jason Jr. ROV
- Cold War covert operation immersive reveal
- Submarine disaster documentation center
- Titanic search methodology interactive
- Memorial tribute space honoring maritime losses

Finding Titanic: The Secret Mission

PR Fact Sheet

For media inquiries or more information, please contact:

Anna Clark

Head of Marketing

Flying Fish

P: +1 312.550.2697

E: marketing@flyingfishexhibits.com

Produced by:

FLYING FISH

NAUTILUS LIVE
OCEAN EXPLORATION TRUST

Finding Titanic: The Secret Mission is a traveling exhibition produced and toured internationally by Flying Fish in collaboration with Ocean Exploration Trust and generously sponsored by the Office of Naval Research and the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.