

Reflection Tool for RRI initiatives

Are you reflecting on implementing a Responsible Research and Innovation (RRI) initiative?

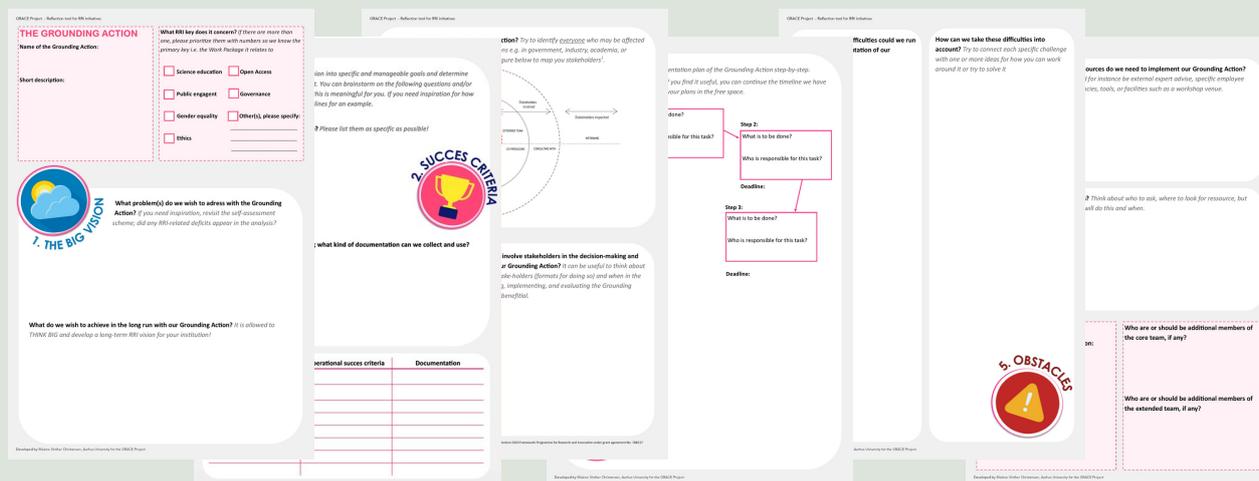

Use this six-page document to walk you through small-group discussions on your project's vision, goals and implementation.

- What do you wish to achieve?
- What will be your measurable success criteria?
- Which stakeholders will be affected by your initiative and will you involve in the decision-making?
- How will you plan the implementation?
- What obstacles do you foresee?
- Which resources will you need?

A tool designed to assist a small working group in its general reflection before starting a project.

The tool was initially developed by Malene Vinther Christensen (Aarhus University) as part of the GRACE project, where six research performing and funding organisations develop and implement Grounding Actions to strengthen responsible practices in their own organisation or network.
